Sub: Examination related work pertaining to Annual II Year PU
Examination of March-2015 – reg.

You are aware that the Department of Pre-University Education is all set to conduct the Pre-University II Year Examinations (Annual & Supplementary) shortly and that this is a mammoth task that requires team work of officials, lecturers, including, officers of various other Departments.

It is found by experience of previous years that lecturers including women submit varieties of reasons to escape responsibility regarding all/any confidential work entrusted to them. It is reiterated here that examination related duties are a integral part of the profession of a lecturer in his career. Further, it is the duty of every lecturer to carryout this essential work, which decides the future of each student. They should not forget that they were also students past and that their papers were also valued in time and the process of examination carried out successfully by a group of dedicated lecturers and officers.

Those who refuse to carryout this essential duty, shall take up the work assigned to them and complete it as per schedule and act in a manner that will prevent the Department from initiating action against them. The Heads of Offices/Institutions shall ensure that the said persons are relieved from their duties, so that they may report for work assigned to them.

Similarly action by such of the Institutions for refusal to depute their staff for the above mentioned duties will also be viewed seriously and action initiated against the Managements.
